Class Pet Care Guide

Student Workbook

Code can organize real information so it helps people.

Name: _____

THEORY

Organizing Information On A Page

Real help sites use sections so readers find what they need. `<h1>` is the page title; `<h2>` names each section. A list (`<ul>` holding `<li>` items) shows steps one per line. This is informational writing — clear facts, in a helpful order.

Talk with your teacher: What sections would a 'How to care for a class pet' page need?

Order the sections

A pet guide has Food, Water, and Exercise sections. Draw them in the order a reader would want them.

Tags & blocks we use:

`<h1>` page title `<h2>` section `` `<ul>` list `<li>` list item `<img>`

Words we are learning

- Section — one part of a page about one idea.
- Subheading — a smaller heading (`<h2>`) that names a section.
- List — items shown one per line with `<ul>` and `<li>`.
- Layout — how parts are arranged on the page.
- Informational writing — facts that help the reader do something.

Sections & Subheadings

`<h1>` titles the whole page; `<h2>` names a section. Match each to its job.

<code><h1></code>	the title of the whole page
<code><h2></code>	the name of one section

Number these sections in a helpful order: Exercise () · Food () · Water ()

Name: _____ Date: _____

Make A List

A list uses `<ul>` to hold `<li>` items. Write three care steps as list items.

`<ul>`

`<li> _____ </li>`

`<li> _____ </li>`

`<li> _____ </li>`

`</ul>`

Write your three `<li>` care steps here:

Fact Or Fluff

Informational writing gives facts that help. Circle the sentences that truly help a pet owner.

Give fresh water daily

The cage is blue

Feed twice a day

Pets are cute

Clean the cage weekly

Cross out the ones that do not help someone care for the pet.

Plan My Layout

Plan your guide's layout. Draw: title, then two sections, then a picture — in order.

PROJECT

Class Pet Care Guide — Plan

You will build an information site that solves a real 'how do I care for...' need, using sections and lists. Plan it first.

1. Which pet is my guide about?

2. My section subheadings (<h2>) — name three:

3. Three care steps for my list ():

4. Draw my layout:
